CONGRATULATIONS MR PRESIDENT

CONGRATULATIONS to the new student president: Saul
Whitehead.

By Charlotte Jones

Well done to both campaigners (Ethan Fox and Saul Whitehead) who both worked very hard to gain the position of student president. Both had to campaign and promote themselves, both choosing to create posters to put around school.

The next day was polling day, where each class went to the library to make their vote on who they wanted for student president. It was a very close decision after counting all the votes but after the final count the winner was Saul Whitehead.

Unfortunately for Ethan Fox he didn't win the vote, though he did try equally hard and everyone claims they found it extremely difficult to decide who to vote for. The following day, after all the votes had been counted, the announcement was made of who the winner was.

We were extremely lucky to have the Mayor of Chesterfield to come in to announce the winner for us. The Year 8's attended the assembly of where the winner was revealed. We interviewed Saul to see what he had to say about how he felt becoming student president, here it is:

What inspired you to apply for student president?

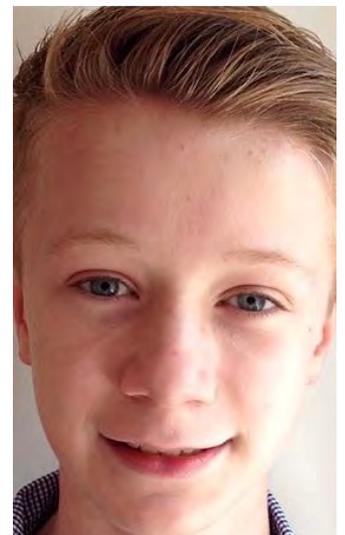

I wanted to change the academy for the better and build on the improvements already made.

What did you have to do to apply for it?

I made many posters and handed out sweets to those who voted for me. I made banners to put up at the front of the school. I also had a campaign team to influence and persuade people to vote for me.

What are you going to bring to the school?

I plan to bring in a student council that any responsible person can join. I will also change the food because most people do not like it. In future I want to change the garden opposite the dining hall, so people can sit in it at lunch.

Times Tables Rock!

By Sophie Baker

ON Wednesday, March 1, 2017 Year 7 and 8 had an assembly presented by Mr Smith and Mr Farrah, about a new maths website called Times Table Rockstars that is being launched to help improve the times tables of our year 7 and 8s.

It began with a challenge for five teachers: Mrs Bladen, Mr Combe, Miss Conlon, Mrs Greasley and Mr Scruby. They had 2 minutes to answer as many out of sixty times table questions as they could, while rock music was playing in the background. After individually marking their answers, the two teachers that got full marks were Miss Conlon (languages) and Mrs Bladen (maths)! As part of the assembly, Will Eade and Johnny Bates, both did a drum performance that showed off the talent of the school. Everyone was given a login for the website and were told all the possible ways to learn your times tables online. You can practice your speed and accuracy and gain 10 coins for your avatar, you also get told your average speed and name. To become a rock god, you must answer all questions with an average of 1 second or under! Year 7 and 8 will be doing a sheet just like this in their maths lessons once a week, while rock music is being played.

We already have a Rock Legend in the school who can answer all questions with an average of under 2 seconds! Congratulations to Sam Ridgeway who stated that: "It's really fun to customise your avatar and earn coins!"

If you have any questions about your login or the website see your maths teacher, Mr Farrah or Mr Smith. Give it a try and it could improve your test mark-more pupils get the harder questions right but their times tables let them down. It's a great way to learn your times tables and have fun while doing so!

Students Visit Germany

By Ella Ryall

DURING February half term, Mrs Foster, Mr Monks and Miss Conlon took 21 students to Berlin to complete an arrangement of language tasks and ultimately to have some fun.

There were fourteen year tens and seven sixth formers that were taken on the trip to Berlin. They visited some famous attractions, they went to Brandenburg gate, a holocaust memorial and they were lucky enough to visit Sachsenhausen, a famous concentration camp, and lots more.

They went bowling on one of the evenings after eating some typical German food for example German currywurst. Whilst visiting attractions students were asked to complete tasks, they did things like asking someone the time, ordering a drink or asking where the nearest tram station is all in German!

They also trekked up the Berlin T.V tower which revealed an astonishing view of Berlin, it showed the students another side of the famous German capital. All students seemed to relish the opportunity and loved the whole experience.

One Hour in A&E

By Sarah Smith

MEDICAL Interests Group is on Wednesdays from 2:30 to 3:30 and is open to years 9-13. The students attending have been practicing stiches on bananas. Mr Savage says this is because 'Bananas have a similar resistance to human skin' when performing stiches. During the course of this interesting enrichment club students have been doing Radiology, Surgical Skills and much more. Mr Savage was even thinking about organising a university trip for the students to be taught by the professionals! He was also considering one week organising an activity like 24 hours in A&E, where students will face a variety of medical emergencies. If you are in Year 9 to Year 13 who are interested in medicine, dentistry, nursing, midwifery or being a paramedic then please see Mr Savage for more information.

Teachers Race in Memory of Mrs Mcready

By Amber Sherratt

THE Sheffield Half Marathon will be held on Sunday 9th of April. Many people, including some of our very own teachers; Mr Witts, Mrs Thompson, Mr Robson and Mrs Taylor, will be running to raise money for Cancer Research UK in memory of previous teacher Mrs Mcready. All the teachers are very excited, even though some are a bit nervous! We spoke to Mr Witts about the event and he thinks it is going to be a very successful event "and he says "it will hopefully raise a lot of money for Cancer Research UK". Mr Witts also said that Mrs Thompson's hard work and training should definitely be appreciated , well done Mrs Thompson! He is also very confident in saying he is going to "smash" his PB. Over £800 has already been made for cancer, this is a huge achievement! If you would like to donate then please see one of the teachers running, or visit their Just Giving page:www.justgiving.com/fundraising/Newbold-Sheffield-Half-Marathon-2017

E-Safety Performance

By Ellie Jones

On Wednesday, February 8 2017, Saltmine Theatre Company came to Outwood Academy Newbold and performed a dazzling e-safety performance. The play consisted of 4 people and the story unravelled to show multiple e-safety disasters between each person. At the end of the performance there was a workshop where students could get involved asking and answering questions about the dangers of the internet and how to be safe online. Year 8 thoroughly enjoyed the show and would love to see another one like it. Sophie Baker said "It gave a clear explanation of the severity of staying safe on the internet and made it fun while doing so". Ben Hall greed by saying it was "very in depth and inspirational".

Year 13 Geography Trip

By Ben Hall

DURING February half term, Year 13 went on a trip to Betws-y-Coed in the north of Wales. On the trip they visited a field centre to collect information for their exam. Whilst there they went up and down sand dunes and also visited the town of Llandudno.

Mr Witts informed us about about two sixth formers who went on the trip and came back as one and also about how one Year 13 brought their own food and instead of cooking the tomato soup on the hob they decided to put the can in the microwave and almost burnt down the place they were staying.

Coby's Corner

By Coby Pilmore

Hi! I'm Coby, Year 7 Bookworm. For as long as I can remember I have loved reading, it has become a huge part of my life, so I think I am in a fitting position to review books. Now....I am writing this article about books and I will write a new article every time the newspaper is released where I will review as many books as I can (without ruining them of course!).

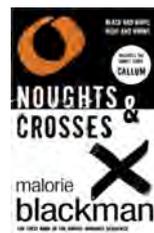

My first review is for 'Magyk' by Angie Sage. This book is humorous and interesting for fantasy fans but it is not a short read so only tackle it if you are confident! This book is about a world divided into magyk and none magyk (not muggles!) all serving under the Queen and new mother but then one night everything goes wrong....I give it 8/10.

Next is 'Twilight Robbery' by Francis Hardinge. Incredibly humorous yet odd book wrapped in mystery. As they find themselves trapped into a city full of secrets can these two companions, as they form a band of a girl, a self-proclaimed author and poet, jolly midwife and crazy goose solve an even bigger problem? 7/10

And finally 'Noughts and Crosses' by Malorie Blackman. Powerful words with an in depth story line, this series is a good read. The world split into black and white where black people are superior leaving white people in the gutters. And yet Sephy (a cross) and Callum (a nought) find love in this world of black and white, right and wrong, love and war.....9/10.

I will also accept your book reviews - write a review and hand it in at the Library (say what it is for though!). I'll try to put some of yours in. I will also do a BOOK AWARD where I will do a section of this article about my favourite book at that point so keep your eye out for that.

Until next time - Coby.

This term:

Mrs Greasley

IN this edition we interviewed MFL teacher, Mrs Greasley. We asked her ten questions to help students get to know some of our school's staff.

1) What inspired you to be a teacher? Who inspired you to do so?

My English teacher has always inspired me to learn and teach languages

2) If you were not a teacher what would you have chosen?

I would like to be a translator

3) What made you choose your subject?

My English teacher

4) Do you have any hobbies outside of school?

Walking and playing on computer games

5) What is your favourite film?

Star Wars- Return of the Jedi

6) What is your favourite song?

A Perfect Day- Lou Reed

7) What is your favourite book?

Harry Potter and the Order of the Phoenix

8) If you could be any animal what would it be and why?

A bird of prey but probably an eagle

9) If you could live anywhere, where would it be and why?

New York as that's an amazing place

10) Who is your celebrity idol?

I don't have one

We hope you have enjoyed getting to know Mrs Greasley and we hope you will look forward to the next interview - Mr To.

By Ben Williams

It is Easter soon and recently some of the greatest songs have come out.

Ed Sheeran's has been away for a year but he is back with a new album Divide. Castle on the Hill and also another massive hit Shape of You have been trending recently. Some of my friends favourite songs include, Galway Girl and You Don't Know Me.

Ben's rating 4 out of 5.

One of my favourite songs is called You Know What They Do To Guys Like Us In Prison. It's a fast paced song, by MCR, and I am addicted to it.

Ben's rating 5 out of 5

Finally, Alarm by Anne Marie is an excellent song. Its very upbeat and exciting so when you are upset or down it will bring you back up again!

Ben's rating 5 out of 5

FILM REVIEWS

By Ella Ryall

2017 is going to be a great year for cinema as we have many great forthcoming films. For instance the Lego Batman film has recently been released and has been extremely popular. In this film Bruce Wayne must not only deal with the criminals of Gotham City, but also the responsibility of raising a boy he has adopted.

The new Beauty and the Beast film has been a massive new release for all Disney lovers, it has a great cast, for example, Emma Watson, Luke Evans and Dan Stevens. This is an adaptation of the Disney fairy tale about a monstrous-looking prince and a young woman who fall in love.

Kong: Skull Island is a prequel to King Kong and will be set in 1971, it will be about a group of brave explorers that cross into Kong's territory.

Hidden Figures is also a big blow out film which is based on three African-American women who go to work for Nasa, they show the men that women can achieve big goals. Pirates of the Caribbean; Dead Men Don't Tell Lies is a sequel to the famous series and is being released on Sunday, March 26, 2017.

The biggest release in my opinion will be the next Guardians of the Galaxy which takes viewers on a space adventure, it will be released on Friday, May 5, 2017. Set to the backdrop of Awesome Mixtape #2, 'Guardians of the Galaxy Vol. 2' continues the team's adventures as they unravel the mystery of Peter Quill's true parentage.

Easter Disco

By Hollie Clarke

ON Thursday, March 30, students from the Sixth Form held a school Easter disco for years 7 and 8. There was an opportunity to come in fancy dress although some people came in their normal clothes.

Everyone who came really enjoyed it and there were some amazing costumes. Sixth Form were also selling drinks and sweets at the disco for anyone who was there. Jordon Gelsthorpe, Y8, who came to the disco in her dog onesie, said; "The disco was fantastic and I enjoyed it." Sarah Smith, Y8, agreed by saying "I enjoyed the disco just as much as I enjoy eating waffles, which is a lot." Everyone had a great time and said if there was another they would definitely come again.

Newbold Dancers Perform at U Dance Festival

ON 15th March, four of Outwood Academy Newbold's finest dancers graced the stage at the Winding Wheel as they made a guest appearance at the 'U.Dance Primary School Dance Festival'.

Jordan Lee, Hayley Craggs, Maisie Hollingworth and Beth Robertson wowed the audience with their beautiful acrobatic dance performance. The festival showcased an array of dance talent from local infant and primary school's with Outwood Academy Newbold and Netherthorpe school making a guest appearance.

The show was opened by Newbold 6th formers Hayley Goldsworthy-Heath and Courtney Neale as part of their role as Platinum Sports Ambassadors.

Meet the Chief Executive!

Julie Slater is Chief Executive of Outwood Institute of Education (OIE), Executive Principal for Outwood Grange Academies Trust, and a National Leader of Education. Cameron Boneham, Newbold News reporter has interviewed Mrs Slater so we can know more about her!

What is the behaviour like in all the different Outwood Academies?

The behaviour is excellent
Is it complicated going round 5 or 6 Outwood's per week?

Its not complicated but very tiring

What did you do before you worked with Outwood Grange Academies Trust?

I worked at other schools but also designed Bullet proof vests!

How long have you worked with Outwood for?

I started in September 2003

What would you do when you retire?

I will travel to see lots of different places in the world.

Do you think you will replace Sir Michael Wilkins?

No because Mr Oliver has replaced him.

What do you like to do outside of school?

Walk my dog .

What hobbies do you like to do?

Go walking

What is your favourite film?

The Jungle Book

Who is your favourite music artist?

Ed Sheeran, Adele, Justin Timberlake (at this point Mrs Slater started singing!)

What inspired you to start working in education?

I want kids to have a passion like me.

The History of Easter

By Sarah Smith

EASTER, also called “Resurrection Sunday” celebrates the resurrection of Jesus Christ – son of God from the dead. It can be classed as the most important Christian festival there is. The name “Easter” was originally derived from the Ancient Greek word “Eostre”. Eostre was the Ancient Greek goddess of spring, who (according to Greek legend) returned to Earth after a long, cold winter and brought with her the warmth and comfort of spring. Despite its religious origins, it has been commercialised to a large extent by the greetings card industry and factories making Easter goods such as Easter eggs. Some traditional Easter foods include: Hot cross buns, butter lamb, Easter bread, Easter biscuits, cheesecake and of course the Easter egg.

RECIPES

Mrs Kay's delicious treats

Every Issue Mrs Kay will be recommending a recipe for you to try at home. Why not bake a Simnel cake this Easter?

This cake dates back to Tudor times, or possibly earlier. Supposedly, Lambert Simnel, the ten-year-old pretender to Henry VII's throne was spared death and sent to work in the royal kitchens where he came up with the recipe.

The truth is probably less colourful, especially as references to the cake appear before Henry VII's reign. Simnel probably refers to the Latin word simila, meaning fine, wheaten flour, which was used to bake cakes for Mothering Sunday, which takes place during Lent.

Ingredients

100g/4oz glacé cherries
225g/8oz butter, softened
225g/8oz light muscovado sugar
4 large eggs
225g/8oz self-raising flour
225g/8oz sultanas
100g/4oz currants
50g/2oz chopped candied peel
2 lemons, grated zest only
2 tsp ground mixed spice

For the filling and topping

450g/1lb marzipan
1-2 tbsp apricot jam, warmed

1. Preheat the oven to 150C/280F/Gas 2. Grease and line a 20cm/ 8in cake tin.

2. Cut the cherries into quarters, put in a sieve and rinse under running water. Drain well then dry thoroughly on kitchen paper.

3. Place the cherries in a bowl with the butter, sugar, eggs, self-raising flour, sultanas, currants, candied peel, lemon zest and mixed spice and beat well until thoroughly mixed. Pour half the mixture into the prepared tin.

Take one-third of the marzipan and roll it out to a circle the size of the tin and then place on top of the cake mixture. Spoon the remaining cake mixture on top and level the surface.

4. Bake in the pre-heated oven for about 2½ hours, or until well risen, evenly brown and firm to the touch. Cover with aluminium foil after one hour if the top is browning too quickly. Leave to cool in the tin for 10 minutes then turn out, peel off the parchment and finish cooling on a wire rack.

5. When the cake is cool, brush the top with a little warmed apricot jam and roll out half the remaining marzipan to fit the top. Press firmly on the top and crimp the edges to decorate. Mark a criss-cross pattern on the marzipan with a sharp knife. Form the remaining marzipan into 11 balls.

6. Brush the marzipan with beaten egg and arrange the marzipan balls around the edge of the cake. Brush the tops of the balls with beaten egg and then carefully place the cake under a hot grill until the top is lightly toasted.

Students Busta Rhyme!

IN the recent 'Busta Rhyme' National Poetry Competition, 8 of our students were chosen for publication in an anthology, this will be sent to the British Library and to local libraries in our area. Congratulations go to; Bailey Astle, Ciara Davies, Nyesha Davies-Collis, Abigail Khan, Caitlin Lewis, Bethany Parsons, Jak Ramsdale and Ellie Spenceley. Well done!

Creative Writing Competition

OUR latest creative writing competition is now open for all students. There are some great prizes to be won and last time 92 of our students were selected for publication!

Entries to be handed into Mr Bamber in E6G by Friday, 7th April.

Editor is Silenced!

On Saturday, March 18, Charlotte Jones, Y7, stayed silent for a whole 24 hours to raise money for the Royal Hospital. The Royal Hospital do amazing and valued work and are very close to Charlottes heart.

Terrifically, she raised a phenomenal amount of £40, as you can imagine, all of Charlottes friends and family were very proud of her.

If you know Charlotte you would know it is very hard for her to stay silent for a very small amount of time, so she did extremely well to have stayed silent for a whole day.

She wants to thank everyone for supporting her along the way.

Kayleigh's Love Story

By Sophie Baker

ON Thursday, March 16, Yorkshire police came into school and showed a video about a girl who was groomed online and was eventually raped and brutally murdered.

After being contacted by a man she had never met on the 31st of October 2015, she gave him her phone number and agreed to meet him. Kayleigh claimed that this man treated her like an adult and, after persuading her that no one would understand, she didn't feel like she could tell her parents or anyone else.

Not that she realised, but this man was slowly isolating her from her friends and family. When she met up with him 15 days later he raped her. She ran away from this man and into a forest where she was murdered.

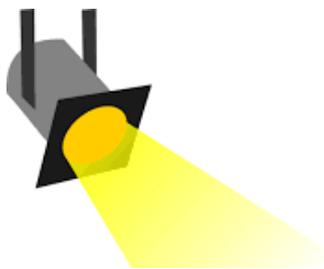

Kayleigh was merely 15 when she was killed. Her body was later discovered in the wood to the heart break of her parents. As horrifying as this story may be, it was certainly made clear what the dangers of the internet are and how we must always tell someone if we are suspicious of any danger.

In the Spotlight

IN each edition of the newspaper we will be focussing on a department to see what they have been up to. In this issue we are looking at Art & Photography.

Year 8 Pattern and Print

Over the last term the Year 8 student's have enjoyed working on their project Pattern and Print. The students started by looking at different patterns from cultures such as Islamic and African. They also looked at the work of William Morris, a famous pattern designer from the Arts and Craft Movement.

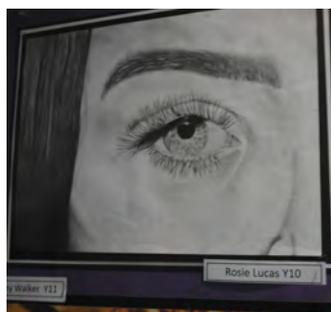

From looking at different patterns, shapes and natural forms the students created a printing plate and designed a colourful background using blended oil pastels. The Year 8 then inked up their printing plates and printed it onto their backgrounds created a repeated pattern.

Elise Calladine

Jack Thomas

Rosie Lucas Y10 – Pencil Tone Eye.

Rosie Lucas worked extremely hard in her 5 hour mock exam to create this stunning pencil tone study from 1 of her photographs of eyes. Rosie managed to skilfully record all the details and reflections in the pupil showing a huge amount of talent and flair.

Charlotte Hooper Y10 – Mixed media Piece

Charlotte has worked very hard to produce this original and creative oil pastel and pencil tone study of Lipsticks. She weaved her photographs in colour and black and white to create the gridded effect which she then skilfully created using tone and mark making.

Connor Preece Y10 – Mixed media piece

Connor Preece has produced this exciting and creative study of a pair of converse shoes in pencil tone. Not only has Connor demonstrated his stunning pencil skills but he has also experimented with printing to create the patterned backgrounds and abstract converse shoe.

Year 7's Big Bang Trip

By Charlotte Jones

ON Thursday the 16th March, Year 7's went on a trip to Birmingham for a science fair, called Big Bang. Many children thought of it as a memorable experience and really enjoyed it. You completed tasks of every ability, from blowing bubbles to massive explosions. Some of the activities we did included a reflex challenge, a KNex challenge and explored various of different inventions. Along the way you could collect stickers from different people who would ask you a question linked to the subject they studied in. It could have been to do with anything.

If you got the question correct you would have received a sticker which if you got 4 of you would automatically be entered into a draw to go indoor sky diving! "It was a great experience and really good," quotes one of the Y7 pupils.

Caption

Competition Winner!

ALL the caption competition entries we got from last terms edition were extremely imaginative, but there can only be one winner!

It was a difficult decision but we came to the conclusion on the caption:

"#GHOSTBUSTERS" created by Chloe Pierce in Year 7.

Congratulations Chloe on your winning entry, come and collect your prize (the box of chocolates) from IT1AG, Mrs Warrington's room.

Some of the other entries included:

"#HIGHWAY SAFETY CREW" "IS IT HALLOWEEN ALREADY?" "SANTAS LITTLE HELPERS".

Peer Mentoring

By Charlotte Jones

PEER mentoring is something Mr Robson started up to help the people that need it. Many children admit to feeling more confident and happy after being mentored by a peer mentor. Mr Robson came up with the idea by considering that some people might feel more comfortable talking to students more around their age. "Peer Mentoring has really helped me come out of my shell and be a lot happier during school!" says a Y7 student.

So far Peer Mentoring has been a really successful thing this year. If anyone feels they need this bit of extra help don't be afraid to go see Mr Robson, and talk to him about it, if you want to speak to him you will be able to find him most likely in the Ark. You could also consider talking to either your learning manager or another peer mentor you know of.

World Book Day

By Lewis Godley

TO coincide with World Book Day on Thursday, March 2 we celebrated our love of reading and books.

Firstly a "Book Swap" was held in the Library at break and lunchtime where students could swap any unwanted books. A great excuse to have a clear out and get some fantastic new books to keep.

Secondly, instead of the 'Word of the week' activity in VMG students completed the 'World Book Day Reading Quiz', a bit of fun with questions that everyone was able to attempt. In total 4 VMG groups managed to get all of the answers correct, so had a go at the tie-breaker, "How many books do we currently have in the Library at OAN?" What is your guess?

Thirdly World Book Day tokens were given out, enabling students to access more new books for themselves.

Fourthly staff dressed up as their favourite literary character to encourage students to guess who they were and which book the character was from.

Students enjoy Romeo and Juliet Workshop

By Ella Ryall

ON Thursday, February 9, Year 10 and Year 11 joined in on a drama workshop, they were lucky enough to have Box Clever theatre company perform a music enhanced version of Romeo and Juliet. The performance was packed with catchy music, laughter and lots of fun but still stayed true to Shakespeare's classic love story.

Students then got the chance to perform and helped play a part in the story which seemed to help the students to connect to the play and just generally let them have fun. Miss McWha stated "It was an amazing performance which all of year ten thoroughly enjoyed. I loved seeing how confident students were when performing, I was shocked at their enthusiasm to get up in front of everyone!" All students seemed to enjoy it, Josh Ambrey stated "It was unique" and Ryan Allison claimed "It was a good twist on an English classic". Overall it was a great educational but fun experience which seemed to improve students' insight into Shakespeare's classic.

REVISING

Revision Top Tips

The exam season is nearly upon us. A Levels & GCSE exams can be an extremely stressful time. With this in mind we have asked teachers their top tip to help you to revise!

Eat a banana before each exam. The potassium gets the synapses in your brain working. Create visual aides and stick them all over your house, it will help to be able to imagine the revision sheet in the exam.
Mrs Edwards

Go into the exam with a funny joke in your mind, just to take the edge off the stress as you sit down!
Mr Robson

Flash cards really helped me. I would write all the key facts down and then could easily carry them around.
Miss Bramley

Start early - distribute your revision of a given topic, so revise a topic multiple times over a period of weeks, not just in one go.
Take breaks
Don't have your phone near you when you revise - too tempting....
SLEEP
Ms Schulze

'Small treats' are my top tip. Find the little things you really enjoy - your favourite chocolate bar, your favourite TV show etc and reward yourself with them at the end of each night's revision. Everyone needs an incentive!
Mr Vallance

If your mind goes blank in the exam write out the lyrics to your favourite song on a piece of paper. As these are buried in your subconscious it acts a bit pressing the reset button on your computer and brings your brain back on line.
Mr Roberts

Make sure you take care of yourself mentally during the revision period - set yourself a fixed time when you will stop your revision for the day (and stick to it!) and after that only do things that don't need any mental effort (watch rubbish TV, have a bath, go for a walk, call a friend...) You can only revise effectively if your mind is well rested!
Miss Conlon

Invest in some nice stationary e.g. highlighters (colors work wonders for visual learners!), Post its and a box for your revision cards! Keep organised as tidy, well presented revision notes = tidy and well-revised mind :)
Mrs Foster

Make sure you give yourself time in the morning of an exam to have a decent breakfast and use this time to sit down and take a breather and not cram anymore revision in.

Practice smiling for 5 mins before you go into the exam room as being happy will help you be more positive and positive people usually have more success.
Mr Thurlow

Get your parents to help out. Become the teacher and teach them a thing or two - that way you'll be revising without even knowing it!
Mrs Thompson

Get your family involved with testing/questioning you.
Mr Witts

And don't talk to your mates about the exam afterwards!!
Miss Brown

Year 8 Girls Netball Competition

By Charlotte Jones

On Monday, March 27, Year 8 girls took part in a netball competition against many schools in Chesterfield. They were: St Mary's, Brookfield, Springwell, Netherthorpe and some others. We came a miraculous 5th out of 8 schools. Congratulations to St Marys who won the Netball competition!

All Schools Rugby Programme.

By Sarah Smith

The all school's rugby programme is run by the RFU who are in charge of all the rugby in the country. The All schools programme is encouraging children playing rugby and it being taught is schools across the country. Outwood Academy Newbold has been taking part for about 18 months and has been successful so far, we hope that it will continue this way! Last Friday people from the RFU came to interview both students and staff about sports. We should feel privileged as they only visited 10 schools in the country! Since the franchise started in this school, the P.E department have taught rugby to Yea7, 8 & 9.

Girls Football Enrichment

By Charlotte Jones

Come along to the Girls football club, after school every Wednesday 2:30-3:30. They are looking for new people to give it a try, it is great for anyone even people who don't particularly like football. Each week is something different, you learn different tactics, warm ups of bench ball and play matches. The person who runs it also very nice and is a member of the Chesterfield Girls football team. Everyone who goes really enjoys this enrichment so come along and have a go.

Free CFC Ticket

Chesterfield FC are offering another deal for FREE football tickets for Under 16s to their final game of the season against Charlton on Sat 22nd April.

If students would like a free ticket, they can collect a form from the PE office which entitles them to one free ticket and if they wish a discounted adult ticket.

The same offer applies to staff too - If you would like a free ticket or a couple of free tickets then see a member of the PE team.
