Facebook

From both Android and iOS devices, the process is similar:

1. Launch the Facebook app from the Home screen
2. Tap the menu button in the upper left hand corner
3. Now scroll down and tap on Privacy settings.

Twitter

From an iOS device:

1. From the Me tab, tap the gear icon and select Settings.
2. Tap Privacy and safety.
3. Under Privacy, and next to Protect my Tweets, drag the slider to turn on.

From an Android device:

1. In the top menu, you will either see a navigation menu icon or your profile icon. Tap whichever icon you have and select Settings.
2. Tap Privacy and safety.
3. Next to Protect my Tweets, check the box.
Snapchat

If you’ve already opted in to the Snap Maps service and don’t want to be on it anymore, it’s a simple process to take yourself off Snapchat’s tracking feature.

To access Snap Maps you’ll need to pinch the screen in the main Snapchat menu where you can see what your front or back camera is shooting.

Pinch with two fingers here and you’ll be pulled out to your location on a map.

In the top right hand corner you’ll then see a cog icon, which is the Settings menu for Snap Maps.

If you press here that will then show you an option called Ghost Mode.

Ghost Mode

When this is enabled, your friends can't see your location.
